

- UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF PENNSYLVANIA

children from being redistricted: Student Doe, et al. v. The School District of Lower Merion.

6. In December, attorneys representing the District filed a Motion for Summary Judgment in the case.
7. Main Line Media News is a news organization in Ardmore, Pennsylvania, consisting of newspapers and Web sites that cover a portion of Philadelphia's western suburbs. Main Line Media News has been reporting on the redistricting since 2008.
8. Since the time the District first announced a need for a redistricting plan, the story has dominated public interest through countless front page news stories and in Letters to the Editor.
9. Recently attorneys representing the plaintiffs filed a response and several exhibits to the District's motion for summary judgment under seal.
10. A week later, attorneys representing the District filed its counter motion to the plaintiff's motion.
11. Although that motion was not placed under seal, exhibits that were filed along with the motion were filed under seal.
12. In both cases, the sealing is improper and in conflict with the constitutional and common-law presumption of access to judicial records as the public has an interest in judicial records and is entitled to "notice and an opportunity to be heard at a meaningful time, and in a meaningful manner" before they can be deprived of that interest. U.S. v. Kuhner, 349 F.Supp.2d 892 (E.D. NJ 2005) citing United States v. Antar, 38 F.3d 1348, 1361 n. 18 (3d Cir.1994).
13. The presumption of access can only be overcome by a showing of good cause, on the record. The burden to show good cause falls squarely on the party seeking closure, who must show the need for secrecy outweighs the presumption of access by specifying the serious injury to be prevented. In re Cendant Corp., 260 F.3d 183 (3d Cir.2001). Broad allegations of harm to a party, unsubstantiated by specific examples or articulated reasoning, fail to overcome the presumption of access. Id. Agreement by the parties to file under seal cannot trump the presumption of access and does not constitute good cause.
14. Moreover, Rule 5.1.5 of the Local Rules for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania provides that a record may only be filed under seal if "the civil action is brought pursuant to a federal statute that prescribes the sealing of the record or of certain specific documents" or "the Court orders the document sealed."

15. The parties have failed to show evidence that a federal statute prescribes sealing and the docket does not illustrate an on-the-record determination of good cause to seal or an order to seal records.
16. In the absence of evidence showing good cause for seal and evidence of superseding laws requiring the documents to be sealed in their entirety, we argue the records in this case should be open and accessible or at the very least be redacted of any non-public information such as the names of children under age 18.

For all the foregoing reasons, we respectfully request this Honorable Court to grant access to the requested records.
